NERO, A DOG, IN JUDICIAL PERIL OF LIFE, DEFENDED BY COUNSEL.

Nero Saved, Though Guilty of Lese Beaute.

Nero is a Newfoundland dog, and in a moment of unaccountable aberration he bit on the arm a lady whom it is understood he really admired. Mrs. Hay demanded that Nero be killed. His life was defended in court in Jersey City. on an application for an injunction, and his counsel moved the Justice to a decision in his favor.

busy figuring out just how much money it will take to have the entire National Guard of this State participate in the event.

As foreshadowed by the Journal on Tuesday, the Finance Committee of the Board of Aidermen at yesterday's meeting reported unanimously in favor of appropriating $150,000 for the Dewey reception. Aldernian Muh, chairman of the committee, will see to it that the report of the committee is adopted at once.

Mayor Van Wyck is taking an extraordinary interest in the matter of this appropriation, and it is prohably due to his persuasion that the obstructionist members from the outlying boroughs have come to efface themselves. The Mayor is thorough iy informed as to what is going on and will not name his committee until the appropriation has been passed and satisfactory arrangements have been made.
